

2009 Awards for Excellence

Four-color Newsletters

Best of Category

Binghamton University Binghamton Parents Newsletter

DEAR PARENT

This is a very exciting time at Binghamton University as we welcome new and returning students to campus. I hope that your son or daughter will take advantage of the many academic and social opportunities that are available this fall.

Much of Binghamton's success stems from our commitment to providing innovative academic opportunities for students. These range from combined-degree programs that enable students to quickly earn advanced degrees to popular study-abroad programs that give students the critical first-hand experience and global perspectives they will need to succeed in their careers. In addition, the University has recently opened its new University Downtown Center, which houses the College of Community and Public Affairs. Students taking courses in this beautiful facility will have new opportunities to volunteer with and learn from community organizations.

This year, we will host our annual Family Weekend on Oct. 25-26. This will be a very entertaining and informative event that offers an opportunity to visit your student on campus and connect with Binghamton University. I hope to see you here.

As you can see, fall semester is busy and exciting, with many opportunities to help students in their intellectual growth and personal development. We want you to stay actively engaged in your son's or daughter's education and encourage your student to take advantage of the opportunities available to them.

Whether your son or daughter is new to Binghamton or is a returning student, we want this experience to meet your expectations. Best wishes to your

